

Secrets of Success (104) B

by Gil Boyne

As you go deeper you are realizing that you are becoming a successful person now. Whenever you think of success you automatically think of yourself as a successful person now, every day living and acting as you've always wished and becoming more successful each day, for you are a successful person.

You know where you are going. You see your goals very clearly in your mind. Each day you see your goals more clearly.

You're grateful for the opportunities you have now and for the life that you have now.

All of mankind desires that you have everything that you want, and everyone is naturally for you. You help others to a fuller and better life by helping yourself, and everyone wants to see you rich and successful.

You make the most of yourself and your life by making yourself rich. As you advance yourself you help others to advance as well.

Your first and best thoughts are directed to the work of acquiring wealth. Your desire for wealth is a desire for more complete expression, for a more creative life, for greater love and well-being for everyone. By enriching your own life you enrich everyone.

You feel grateful for what you are and grateful for the opportunities that are before you. You continually expect good things to come to you. Everything you want is potentially yours. It is now at hand. You now begin to reach out and take possession of it. You see the things you want actually around you all the time. You see yourself owning and using them. You take possession of this life--in mind--in the full belief it is actually yours.

To get rich, you need to use your inner power only on yourself. You use your power to keep your mind working in that certain way that leads you to wealth--by holding a picture of your goals with your belief that you are worthy of life's riches. You know that all that is possible in the way of greatness and highest endeavor comes by way of getting rich, which is the noblest aim that you can have in life. This is your goal.

You know in your heart that love flourishes best where there is refinement--a high level of thought and freedom from corrupting influences--and these are to be found only where riches are attained by the exercise of creative thought. By your creative thought the things you want are brought to you. By your positive action you receive them.

Whatever your action is to be you must act now--in the present. For it's only in the present that you can take action toward your goals. Your action must be upon the persons and things in your environment. You change your environment to a better one by acting on your present environment with creative thought. You continually focus on the vision of yourself in a better environment, but you act upon your present environment with all of your heart and all of your strength and all of your mind.

You hold the vision of yourself in the right business. You have the purpose to get into the right business and the belief that you will get into the right business. You act in your present business for you get a change in environment by acting on your present environment.

You are becoming efficient in every single action you take.

Each day is a success, for each day you move closer to your goals. You hold to your vision, and you put the whole power of your belief and your definite purpose into it.

You become rich by doing what you want to do and doing it better. You acquire the talent, the skill, and the tools you need to reach your goals as you continue to move toward them.

You act to provide more life for everyone. All of your efforts convey to the minds of others the impression of increase, for you are a creative center from which increase is being given off to everyone and you are certain of this. You convey the assurance of increase to every man, woman, and child with whom you come in contact. You convey the impression of advancement with everything that you do so that all people receive the impression that you are an advancing person and you advance all who deal with you. You convey this impression by holding the belief that you yourself are on the way of increase and by letting this belief inspire and permeate your every action.

You feel that you are becoming rich and that in so doing you are making others rich, and you're conferring benefits on everyone. You impress others that in associating with you they will get benefits for themselves. You give value greater than the value you receive, and you take an honest pride in this. You let everyone know it, for people come to where they get benefits. Your business increases rapidly and unexpected benefits come to you. Each day you make more money, you secure greater advantages, and you move to the most useful and satisfying vocation.

You do all the work that you can do every day, and you do each piece of work in a perfectly successful manner. You put the power of success and the purpose of becoming rich into everything that you do. You're certain to advance because you're becoming too big for your present place.

You have a clear concept of what you want to be. You know you're becoming what you want to be, and you're determined to be what you want to be.

When you find an opportunity to be more than you are at present you take it, for it's the first step toward greater opportunity.

Your thoughts are always on the level of creativity. You never act on the lower level of competition with others. You find that obstructions and obstacles disappear as you approach them because you have a powerful belief in your purpose. You know that a way over, through or around all obstacles will appear to you.

You always speak in terms of advancement. You think of the world as something that is growing and expanding.

You continually keep your goals before you. Every seeming failure becomes a success as you keep your faith, hold to your purpose, express gratitude, and do all that you can do each day. You do each separate act in a successful manner, and you know that as you live in this manner your life is being enriched with all that can contribute to the elegance, the beauty, the richness, the tenderness, and the love of life.

You relax and enjoy your world when it's time to do those things. You surround yourself with beautiful things. You feed your mind and develop your intellect.

You love others and do kind things. You're able to play a good part in helping the world to find truth. This is the wealth that is yours now, and you now begin to reach out and take it, for you are that person at this very moment. You be yourself in this way, and you act the part and as you do more and more you become that person.

You do each thing in such a way that you are satisfied with yourself; and, in your imagination, you see yourself serving other people's needs in an ever greater and greater way. You see this service bringing you greater and greater abundance; and, in your imagination, you see life responding to you as a result of your creative service.

You believe that money flows to you as readily as to anyone in all the world, and you accept it when it comes--whatever the amount--with a deep sense of appreciation, and you use it wisely with gratitude. For money is a universal substance, it belongs to everyone. It exists for all to use. Money is necessary to the full, free, happy expression of life through you.

You are meant to have an abundance of money. You use your money in a healthy, generous, and good way. You never turn away from nor do you refuse money anymore than you would turn away from or refuse to accept air and sunlight. You accept the generous gifts life has for you with enthusiasm.

You look upon money as your servant. It is good for you, and you use it to bring good into the lives of others, for others are benefitted through your creative use of money.

Creative, expansive ideas for financial success are continually coming to you. As you seek to do more and more good for others all of the channels of life--people, situations, and conditions in your environment--pour out to you a greater abundance of money.

You seek and you find the value in every situation. You do what you should do enthusiastically and successfully. Success exists for you and you have the right to it, for to the best of your knowledge and ability you are fulfilling your destiny here on earth.

You express life--the good life--in a full and wholesome way, and you meet each day with courage and with understanding. You now know there is never a shortage of money, for money is a spiritual substance. The capacity of life to respond to you is limitless. Because your subconscious belief determines the amount that you receive, you now open all of the avenues of your being--mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual--to give out as well as to receive abundant wealth.

You attract money. Money flows to you easily, freely, and generously. It comes to you from the infinite source of all supply.

You have a clear, definite, mental picture of wealth. You see yourself with all the money you desire, that you may live richly, abundantly, luxuriously.

You have a feeling of great joy as you see yourself giving from your store of wealth so that others may share your good. Your heart is open to give out, your hands are open to receive generously.

You make wise and safe investments. Each investment brings you generous dividends. Opportunities to make money come to you every day. They come continually and unexpectedly. It is as normal and natural for you to acquire wealth as it is for you to breathe.

You are grateful for your wealth and you use it where it will do the most good. A continuous flow of ideas to increase your bank account comes to you, and you put each idea to work for the good of yourself so that you may give out even more in helpfulness and service.

Your success is steady and constant, and everything you do prospers. You have a lavish, dependable income as a result of your personal integrity. As you continue to use what you have in services to your fellow man, more and more flows in to replace the outflow.

Your gratitude for and your good use of that which you have automatically brings you more and greater opportunities to make money. Money-making ideas take shape and form easily and freely in your imagination and come forth into your experience as wealth and even more wealth.

Wealth is yours now and you accept it and you are grateful for it. You are grateful for your achievements. Most of all, you are grateful for the abundance that is yours now.

Now, each of these ideas has made a vivid, deep, and permanent impression on your subconscious mind. And each day in your daily life you become more and more aware of the full, powerful, creative expression of these ideas.

Trance Termination

Now I'm going to count from one to five, and then I'll say "fully aware." At the count of five, your eyes are open, you're fully aware then, feeling calm, rested, refreshed, and relaxed.

All right.

One. Slowly, calmly, easily, and gently you are returning to your full awareness once again.

Two. Each muscle and nerve in your body is loose and limp and relaxed, and you feel wonderfully good.

Three. From head to toe you're feeling perfect in every way--physically perfect, mentally perfect, emotionally calm and serene.

On number four, your eyes begin to feel sparkling clear, just as though they were bathed in cold spring water.

On the next number I count, eyelids open, fully aware, feeling calm, rested, refreshed, relaxed, invigorated, and full of energy.

Number five. You're fully aware now, eyelids open. Take a deep breath, fill up your lungs, and stretch.
